From Research to Practice Clinical Track Provides Timely Updates

Nutrition 2018 will feature a special Research to Practice clinical track on Saturday, June 9 and Sunday, June 10 geared towards the practicing clinician. Sessions will cover cutting-edge advances in nutrition research with a focus on practical applications.

Featured talks include:

Nutrition and the Aging Brain
Barbara Shukitt-Hale, PhD,
Tufts University

Carbohydrate-Modified Diets for Obesity in Children and Adults
David Ludwig, MD, PhD,
Boston University

Should US Women Embrace the Mediterranean Diet?
JoAnn Manson, MD, DrPH,
Harvard Medical School

Engaging Your Patients in Lifestyle Change
John Foreyt, PhD,
Baylor College of Medicine
Continuing education credits for physicians, nurses and dietitians will be provided.

We Care about You and Your Family.

Nutrition 2018 aims to be a family friendly environment and ASN is offering small grants to help off-set caregiving expenses to enable scientists with dependent children or family members to present their research in Boston.

The Nutrition 2018 Family Support Grant is a reimbursable allowance up to a maximum of $750 towards eligible funding scenarios. Provision of these grants is part of a study to assess and evaluate conference attendance feasibility; through this effort we will gather feedback about preferences and barriers to conference attendance.

Special thanks to the National Dairy Council and The Sugar Association, our supporters of the inaugural Family Support Grants.

Deadline to Apply is April 2, 2018
