What You Need To Know:

- Sight and Life's Elevator Pitch Contest is a competition among innovators to identify and support projects that have a high potential to be implemented and produce a meaningful impact in nutrition assessment. The contest seeks DISRUPTIVE IDEAS that will change the current way nutrition is measured.
- Whether a cutting-edge product, service, technology or application, the innovation needs to advance and improve the existing approaches to nutrition assessment.
- The contest is open to all students – including undergraduate, graduate and medical students and/or those working on a PhD or in a post-doctoral fellowship.
- Finalists will Win a Trip (Round Trip Flight and Accommodations) to Nutrition 2018 to pitch their idea to a panel of experts and potential investors. Winners will receive a cash award of up to $2,000 USD.

Submissions due January 31, 2018
